Since the 1970s, the nonsmokers’ rights movement has made significant progress toward clean indoor air. As of January 2, 2018, there are 4,991 states, commonwealths, territories, and municipalities with laws in effect that restrict where smoking is allowed, many of which are 100% smokefree Non-Hospitality Workplace,* Restaurant, or Bar laws, and combinations of the three. We hope that the following concise statements are helpful.

Local Laws
- A total of 4,936 municipalities in the United States have laws in effect that restrict where smoking is allowed.
- Of these 4,936, a total of 1,433 municipalities have a 100% smokefree provision in effect – in non-hospitality workplaces, and/or restaurants, and/or bars.
- There are 1,183 municipalities with laws in effect that require non-hospitality workplaces to be 100% smokefree.
- There are 1,272 municipalities with laws in effect that require restaurants to be 100% smokefree.
- There are 1,136 municipalities with laws in effect that require bars to be 100% smokefree.
- There are 945 municipalities with laws in effect that require non-hospitality workplaces, restaurants, and bars to be 100% smokefree.
- There are 1,026 municipalities with laws in effect that require both non-hospitality workplaces and restaurants to be 100% smokefree.
- There are 1,131 municipalities with laws in effect that require both restaurants and bars to be 100% smokefree.

Note: Since some of the above municipalities have 100% smokefree coverage in more than one category, the numbers are not mutually exclusive.

State and Local Laws
- Across the United States, 22,661 municipalities, representing 81.6% of the US population, are covered by a 100% smokefree provision in non-hospitality workplaces, and/or restaurants, and/or bars, by either a state, commonwealth, territorial, or local law.
- 42 states and the District of Columbia have local laws in effect that require non-hospitality workplaces and/or restaurants and/or bars to be 100% smokefree.
