

ASHTRAY AS ARTIFACT

In Anchorage Worksites
and Public Places

The Ashtray, circa 2000 AD. This device was commonly used to hold smoldering cigars and cigarettes in restaurants and other work sites and public areas in Anchorage. This variety of ashtray became extinct December 31, 2000 when Anchorage went smokefree.

DECEMBER 31, 2000 ANCHORAGE GOES SMOKEFREE!

...in elevators...restrooms...lobbies...hallways...buses...
taxicabs...stores...professional offices...banks...laundromats...
hotels...motels...restaurants...galleries...libraries...museums...
movie theaters...sports arenas...bowling alleys...pool halls...
schools...break rooms...waiting rooms...apartment buildings...
trailer parks...nursing homes...

www.smokefreeanchorage.ak.org

You are invited to an Open House with information on the new law and how to make your business smokefree.

PLACE: Municipal Health Department Building
825 L Street
4th Floor Conference Room
(Across from Benihana)

TIME: 7-9 PM (with a presentation given at 8 PM)

Sponsored by the Smokefree Anchorage Coalition on behalf of the Alaska Native Health Board